LOVE FOUND THE WAY.

The most successful of story writers never conceived a prettier romance than the courtship and marriage of Mr. Patrick Henry Fitzhugh, of Baltimore, and Miss Eudora Davis, the pretty daughter of Mr. William Davis, of Ware Neck, a county village in Gloucester county, the former home of the Fitzhughs. After one of the most exciting and roundabout elopement trips, carefully planned in order to avoid telegraph and telephone stations, the young couple were married in Leonardtown, St. Mary's county, Md., about midnight on Monday by Rev. Richard Bickwell, rector of the Episcopal Church at that place. The couple then set out for Baltimore to spend their honeymoon with the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fitzhugh, arriving on Wednesday. The happy bride wrote her parents of her marriage and beseeched their early forgiveness.

The couple met several years ago, while the now happy groom was a clerk in a country store of which the bride was a patron. Cupid soon firmly knitted their hearts together. Six years ago the parents of young Fitzhugh moved to Baltimore. He was then eighteen and came with them. Though miles of land and water separated the young couple, Uncle Sam regularly carried them fond missives of love, and "distance only lent enchantment." Young Fitzhugh soon secured a position as traveling salesman for a shoe house in Baltimore, and was delighted when he found that his duties would often lead him to the town of his childhood, where his sweetheart still dwelt. They soon became engaged.

The only objection Mr. and Mrs. Davis had was the girl's youth, and they withheld their consent to the marriage. The couple got their heads together and set on next Christmas day for the nuptials, trusting to the future for the maturing of their plans. Somehow the parents heard of it and planned that their daughter should attend a Petersburg boarding school and that she should travel during the Christmas holidays. All arrangements were made to that end and last Saturday the young girl's heart was saddened at the sight of her mother packing her trunk and preparing for the start, which was to have been made last Monday. Miss Eudora was to accompany her sister, Miss Sarah E. Davis, to Petersburg. Young Fitzhugh heard of the plans, and decided to frustrate them.

Now comes the most interesting part of the narrative. Last Sunday Fitzhugh secured a carriage with two horses, quietly drove up to the Davis home, secured permission to take Miss Eudora out for a final drive, and away they went. They drove far out into country, following up the Rappahannock. On they drove, looking for a place where they could ferry the river and get into Maryland and be married. At midnight on Sunday they came to a little place, woke up the good people and were swiftly ferried across, leaving word there to send to the team. On the other side they secured another team and drove until the Potomac was reached and then crossed into Maryland. They covered in all exactly sixty-five miles, stopping every now and then at some country place for meals and feed and rest for horses, which were now in charge of a friend of young Fitzhugh. Finally, Leonardtown was reached, after a circuitous route over hills, through creeks and dales, planned in order to evade telegraph and telephone lines.

The couple will remain in Baltimore for a few days, and will then return to Virginia to receive the parental blessing.

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Some Things ARE BETTER Than Others.

Why Not Cigars?

We claim that Plantation Cigars are better than any others on the market at the price. First, because they are made of pure tobacco. Second, because they are hand-made.

Third, because they are kept at the same standard all the time.

Any number of Plantation Cigars can be smoked with no deleterious effect, because there is no drug used as a flavor which shatters the nerves and upsets the stomach. Look for the brand when buying cigars and see that every one is stamped
